Part 1: Concurrent Enrollment (see Funding Guide, p.15 #8)

Concurrent enrollment means you are simultaneously attending more than one school on a part-time basis (less than 60% of a full-time course load at each education institution).

- If you are concurrently enrolled, enter your primary educational institution on Page 2 of this application (Full-time Studies Information section)
- You must choose one of the institutions as your "primary institution". Your primary institution will be responsible for confirming your registration.
- Your course(s) at each school will be reviewed to determine whether you can be considered a full-time student for student aid purposes.

Enter your primary institution:

Enter your additional institution(s):

To verify full-time status, you must attach documents from your primary and additional institutions stating:

- Course Name(s)
- Course Weight(s)/Credit(s)
- Session Start and End Dates
- Course Costs

Part 2: Exchange/Field Study Students Only

Enter your home educational institution:

Note: Your home institution is where tuition costs are paid and is also listed in the Full-time Studies Information section on Page 2 of this application.

Attach a letter of confirmation from your home institution or an acceptance letter from the host institution. Your letter should confirm the actual start and end dates of your Exchange or Field Study Program and list your costs for Tuition, Mandatory Fees, and Books.

What is your airfare cost (if applicable)?
